CRAZY ART

Art is not only about painting, sculpture or photography. Artists have found other ways to express themselves through movements such as airgami, food art, street art or body art... Less known and less traditional, these movements have inspired unique artists such as Carl Warner and his landscapes made of vegetables, Nathan Sawaya, the creator of Lego® Art, or Larry Moss and his famous balloon sculptures.

CRAZY ART presents the innovative and audacious works of more than 40 artists coming from all over the world, demonstrating that there is nothing capable of restricting the expression of the most original ideas.
